

Official Announcement: Tariff Increase on Electronic Components

Effective immediately, the United States Government has announced an increase in import tariffs on many electronic components from China, raising the previous 25% tariff to a new rate of 45%. This 20% increase, as part of Round 3 of the tariff adjustments (USTR Press Release), will have an impact on the costs of affected products.

As a result, ZETTLER Group companies, unfortunately, must continue to pass on the increased tariff costs to our customers, as we have done in the past. This will be reflected in a surcharge, which you'll find clearly listed in the surcharge column and surcharge total field on your invoices.

Please note that these tariff rates are subject to change or further increases, as tariffs have fluctuated in the past. We will monitor these changes daily and keep you informed.

We understand the impact this may have on your business and appreciate your understanding as we navigate these changes. Should you have any questions or need further clarification, please do not hesitate to contact our customer service team.

Thank you for your continued partnership.
